Project Title

Parkinson's Table Tennis

About your project/what are you seeking funding for?

The South Ayrshire club (SATTC) runs a table tennis session for People with Parkinson's on a Saturday. This is an additional session to the regular club sessions during the week. Table Tennis has proven health benefits for People with Parkinson's (PWP) and the club is looking for financial support to keep these sessions going. Although the club has been able to finance the Parkinson's sessions, it does put a little strain on the clubs' resources. The funding will be used to pay hall rental (currently, £36/weekly session) and to maintain a supply of training balls that are a vital part of every session.

What community will this project be delivered in and what communities will benefit?

The club is based in Mossblown and is the only table tennis club in South Ayrshire to deliver table tennis. The Parkinson's community will be the main beneficiaries of this funding, and it does meet with the club's ethos of delivering to all sections of the South Ayrshire community.

Please provide information you have about the need and support for the project, eg community consultation

The South Ayrshire club works with Parkinson's UK Scotland and Table Tennis Scotland to ensure that the best possible offer of exercise and mental stimulation is given to People with Parkinson's. The programme includes referrals from NHS health professionals and the local Parkinson's groups. SATTC were the first club in Scotland to embrace table tennis for PWP and is the catalyst for (so far) eleven other clubs in the country taking up the project. Thanks to the club demonstrating to Table Tennis Scotland that the inclusion of PWP within the sport is proven to slow down this degenerative disease; However, hall rental costs have risen recently and we need a constant supply of training balls to alleviate the need for participants using their playing time chasing after one ball after each rally. The Parkinson's group get through approximately 20 broken balls every month.
